No New Trial for Captain Carter According to Mr. Knox.

TODAY'S APPOINTMENTS

At the cabinet meeting today Senator Hanna talked at considerable length on the subject of the two propositions for memorials to President McKinley-that of building a monument at Canton and that of erecting a memorial arch in this city that will be a part of the memorial bridge. Sonator Hanna arrived at the White House today with John G. Milburn of Buffalo, and as the cabinet was assembling he had only a few words with the President at that time. He and Mr. Milburn remained with Secretary Cortelyou, discussing the plans of the McKinley Monument Association, all three being members of the committee appointed to solicit subscriptions. Before the cabinet adjourned Mr. Hanna went into the room and spoke of the situation as to the Conference This Afternoon.

Senator Hanna came to Washington largely on business connected with the monument proposition, and will have a conference this afternoon with officials in this city of the Memorial Arch Association. Commissioner Macfarland will be present at the conference. Senator Hanna's main object is said to be to reach an understand-ing with the officials of the association as to working in harmony with the officials of the other association. Senator Hanna explained to the cabinet that there is really some conflict between the two organizations, inasmuch as many people are in doubt to which organization to send con-

Mr. Hanna explained to the cabinet that It is the earnest desire of the people of the middle west that a monumen, be erected at Canton, and that when this is done there will be every wish to co-operate with the Arch Association in the work that it is undertaking. From the Pacific coast and other points of the country remote from Canton there is said to be a strong feeling against a memorial that is away from Washington. In the middle west the people want Canton, and between the two conflicting sentiments harm may be caused unless there is an understanding.

Senator Hanna told the cabinet that he had talked with a number of congressmen. who expressed the strongest desire to see a memorial arch here, provided for by appropriation by Congress.

The Carter Case.

Attorney General Knox spent some time with the cabinet explaining that a great deal of misunderstanding exists over reports that a new trial has been granted to Capt. Oberlin M. Carter, who was convicted of frauds in connection with the work in the Savannah, Ga., harbor. The Attorney General stated that no new trial has been granted and that so far as he knows none will be granted. The hearing to be had in Chicago is over the question whether certain funds in the possession of L. Stanton Carter and L. D. Carter, uncles of Captain Carter, are part of the funds taken from the government. Authorities of the Department of Justice and of the office of the controller of the currency have for years been tracing money alleged to have been deposited by Carter. They have traced several hundred thousand, and have tied this money up can that the money belongs to the United States. In Chicago proceedings were begun against the two uncles of Captain Carter, but they ignored these, and ated against them. These contempt proecedings will bring out the entire case of Captain Carter over again and the preused as a witness.

It is the strong hope of the officials of the Department of Justice to prove that the money traced to Chicago is really a part of the original money stolen by Capt.

Carter.
The President stated to the cabinet today that he would make no more civil appointments until Congress meets, so as to avoid the necessity of double appointments, or rather one appointment and one nomination. Only in urgent cases will there be an appointment between now and the time when Congress meets.

No Revision of the Tariff.

Sereno E. Payne, chairman of the ways and means committee of the House and republican leader of that body, saw the President this morning. Mr. Payne, Representative Grosvenor, Representative Steele and Representative Russell, all of the ways and means committee, had a conference with the President yesterday these subjects, it is certain that the opponents of a revision of the tariff are lining up to combat what they call "tinkering division of the common property of the with the tariff." General Grosvenor has tribe. Of course, legislation is expected by with the tariff." General Grosvenor has declared that Ohio won't stand for tariff the coming Congress ratifying any supplerevision, and to a Star representative this morning Mr. Payne said: "The country is doing better than I ever knew before, and there is an old adage that 'well enough ought to be let alone.'

Representatives Dalzell, Steele, Russeil and Hopkins, all the members of the committee who have been in Washington re cently, and whose opinions have been asked. join heartily with the majority of the re-publicans of the committee in stoutly opposing any tariff changes. Representatives Tawney, McCall and Long of Kansas are the three other republicans whose views are not so fully known. Representative Babcock wants a revision along certain lines and he will probably be the only republican member of the committee who does.

A number of senators, even many from the west, are talking against tariff revision of any kind. What effect these sentiments and this pressure will have on the President remains to be seen. There is almost as much opposition to reciprocity, but it is not openly expressed, as is the determination that the tariff must be left alone. It is pointed out that the Dingley law prowides that reciprocity treaties must be agreed to by both houses of Congress. This approval of the treaties by the House of Representatives lends a new phase to the discussion of the probable fate of the trea-

The opinion of a number of republican members of the ways and means committee is that the ratification of reciprocity treaty really amounts to changing portions of the

That Virginia Judgeship. A large delegation of Virginia republicans, mostly from Tazewell county, saw the President today to urge the appointment of A. P. Harenon, H. G. McCall, T. E. George and Edgar P. Rucker, ex-attorney general of West Virginia. The President told the delegation that he had decided upon no candidate for the place.

Col J. Hampton Hoge likewise talked with the President about the judgeship.

The chances now are that L. L. Lewis of Richmond is the strongest man in the race. It was stated by a Virginian today that if Mr. Lewis is not appointed, the next strongest man will be Cart I. H. W.

that if Mr. Lewis is not appointed, the next strongest man will be Capt. J. H. Wood of Bristol. Mr. Wood is now supporting Mr. Lewis, who is not much inclined to take the place if offered to him. GEN. HARRIES' CLAIM.

The Controller's Response to a Request for Reconsideration.

The controller of the treasury has passed pon a communication from Gen. George H. Harries asking a reconsideration of General Harries' claim for extra pay as colonel of the late 1st District of Columbia Volunteers. The controller says that he feels satisfied that his original decision and his findings were not inconsistent with the law and facts.

The controller's opinion as to Gen. Harries has been based wholly on the fact that records of the regiment do not contain any motification of the fact that Gen. Harries was on duty during the furlough period. The controller says that parole evidence is insufficient to establish the facts.

"In other words," says the controller, something more was necessary to put you in a duty status from waiting orders than simply doing some work of a military char-

LEGALITY OF TERMINAL CHARGES. Interstate Commission's Case Against Western Railways.

United States Supreme Court today heard arguments in the case of the interstate commerce commission against the western railroads terminating at Chicago. The case involves the legality of the terminal charge of $2 per car on all cars carrying live stock into the union stock vards at Chicago in addition to the through rate charge. The commission decided against the terminal tariff, but the railroads appealed to the courts.

Argument was made for the commission by Messrs. William A. Day, S. H. Cowan and David Willeox, and for the railroads by Mr. Lloyd W. Powers.

GENERAL MARKET REPORTS

Special Dispatch to The Evening Star.

NEW YORK, November 8.-The early price movement in today's stock market reflected considerable irregularity, but sentiment was, on the whole, decidedly hopeful. London sent over a lower range of prices, and sold some stocks during the opening hour.

Stocks which were most prominent in the advance of a few days ago were allowed to drag somewhat, but at the declines occasioned by profit-taking and some mixed selling the buying was said to have been of the best. Commission houses had a fair volume of business and the various pools were active in the support of their special-

Earnings for the month of October, which are now coming in, are the most remarkable in the history of these monthly exhibits. Already three properties, namely, New York Central, Great Northern and Northern Pacific, have shown increases of more than $1,000,000 in gross earnings for the month. Following this showing are in-creases extending somewhere between $700,000 and $800,000 in Erie, Canadian Pacific and Missouri Pacific.

In the smaller but still considerable gains are nearly all of the better-known trunk line properties. Such a condition very nat-urally shakes the confidence of the room in lower prices. The banks with their expanded loans is the one doubtful factor which dampens the enthusiasm of the

The public is fixed in its belief that the advance which may follow from the con-vincing argument of continued prosperity will really be utilized for the purpose of unloading by the banking interests and the speculative pools which such interests have fostered. In order to shake the confidence of the public in this theory the proverbial effect of higher prices as a bait for public buying is being relied upon.

Should confidence in the underlying strength of the situation be restored it is reasonably certain that the unloading of stocks by big men would give way to a further exploiting of the community of ownership idea. Already the Vanderbilt, the Gould, the Standard Oil and all other millionaire railway interests have been advised of the Northwestern settlement, in order that no plans of that interest may be imperiled by the completion of the first

The buying of Chesapeake and Ohio was again good, as was also the demand in Norfolk and Western. The hard coal tocks were well bought, but made no cided gains. The buying of New York Central was of the best, and all the junior securities found a ready market.

Atchison was a feature of the day under an increased demand in which both com-mon and preferred made substantial gains. The denial of any alliance with Pennsylvania is constantly made, but Philadelphia nouses are big buyers of Atchison, and scarcely a financial institution in that city but has a liberal supply of the stock among its collaterals. It is hardly possible, therefore, that Pennsylvania has had no interest in the Atchison property.

Union Pacific and Southern Pacific failed o make any new gains, the recent buying having given way to an irregular market Geisler, Hoboken; Robert A. Pinkerton, for these shares. Morgan interests were New York; James B. Lazenr, Denver; O. quoted as being bullish on the Steel stocks, but the present outside demand for them is limited. Tomorrow's bank statement is expected to be an improvement on that of last Saturday, and even better than in-dicated about the middle of the week.

Republicans of Prince George's County, Md., to Appeal to Court. Mr. Charles B. Calvert, formerly promient among democratic leaders in Maryand, but who co-operated with the republicans in the recent campaign, was seen today by a Star reporter, and in response to inquiries respecting the political situation in Prince George's county said: "A rebuke, with a moral effect that will be lasting, has been administered to Gorman and Gormanism. His desperate at-tempt to return to power after the striking repudiation of 1895, with the state repub-lican in the two succeeding elections as a result of Gorman treachery to true democracy and the general disgust with demo-cratic bosses, makes it certain that the state of Maryland can hereafter be safely counted in the republican column.

"The outrageous ballot law passed in extraordinary session of the legislature, has received its death blow. Both democrats and republicans condemn it. In Prince George's county the election judges, under instructions, counted out 1,500 ballots, 1,000 of which were fairly and honestly cast for the republican ticket.

"A contest before the courts will elect the entire republican ticket in Prince George's county. Next year a republican representative in Congress from the fifth congressional district, composed of the counties of Prince George's, Anne Arundel, Calvert, Charles and St. Mary's, with the court that his real name is Joseph Caspar, son of Anton Caspar of 809 D street northeast. The charge against him was vagrancy and the testimony was of such a nature that the judge sent for the prisoner's father.

Policeman Samson of the first precinct, who made the arrest, had Frank L. Mitchell, who stated that he is an $1,800 clerk in the Treasury Department, called as a witness. While on the witness stand Mitchell made a confession of the relations between the defendant and himself and said he was now anxious that the intimacy should cease. According to Mitchell's tes-timony he first met Caspar three years ago and the two became friends. He said he had been trying to end the relations for several weeks and had consulted an assistant district attorney about the matter. He had done what he could for Caspar lately and had tried to get and keep employment for him. ployment for him.

Policeman Samson explained to the court

Policeman Samson explained to the court that he took Caspar from the room of Mitchell at No. 717 9th street northwest last night. He repeated the story related to him by young Caspar. The latter, he said, told him he had become so infatuated with Mitchell that he could not keep away from him. He said he now felt that he did not want to face his friends and that his last ambition in life had disappeared.

It was with some rejuctance that the young man told the court his real time and that of his father, and then he said he did not want his father told of the arrest and the cause. He said he was anxious to change his mode of living, but had found it extremely difficult to do so.

After the boy's father had been consulted the court imposed a sentence requiring the young man Caspar to give bond in the sum of $500 or spend six months on the farm.
